NOCOLOUR

The long-overdue collaboration between Marcus Voss and Will Hernandez — an Afro House project built on a decade of friendship, shaped by German techno and Cuban rhythm.

MARCUS VOSS × WILL HERNANDEZ / AFRO HOUSE · AFRO TECH

NO RULES. JUST SOUND.

TWO WORLDS. ONE GROOVE.

A TEN-YEAR
FRIENDSHIP
FINALLY IN THE STUDIO — STRIPPED BACK,
SOULFUL, BUILT
FOR THE FLOOR.

NOCOLOUR is the long, overdue collaboration between Marcus Voss and Will Hernandez. While the project is entering its second year, the foundation was built over a decade of friendship — two people finally putting years of conversation into the studio.

The music is a direct result of two worlds colliding. Marcus brings a deep history in the technical, driving pulse of German techno and drum & bass; Will's Cuban roots provide the salsa and organic Latin rhythms that are part of his DNA. Together they bridge the gap between clinical production and a spiritual, rhythmic heart.

The philosophy is simple — they don't overthink it. Afro House built on hypnotic percussion, deep atmospheric layers, and the kind of groove that only comes from a ten-year bond. Stripped back. Soulful. Made for the dancefloor.

That approach is proving its worth. The debut NUMBERS EP (2025) drew early BBC radio support; 2026 flagship "All You Do" climbed Beatport's Afro House Hype chart; and upcoming single "It Is You" has been downloaded by Black Coffee, Sasha, Solomun and Deer Jade ahead of release.

02 / THE SOUND

AFRO HOUSE WITH A SUMMER SPIRIT — BUILT FOR CONNECTION.

THE DNA

Warm percussive grooves, emotive melodies, stripped-back arrangements designed for movement. A hybrid workflow layering digital precision with the raw energy of live-influenced rhythms. Tempos sit between deep Afro House and Afro Tech — designed to land in a sunrise set or a dark club room.

KINDRED SPIRITS

Drawing from the percussive elegance of Keinemusik (&ME, Adam Port), the atmospheric depth of Black Coffee, and the architectural sensibility of Solomun — while keeping one foot in the technical weight of Marcus's German techno roots.
